

Studebaker Building

Façade Repairs and Roof Replacement

Construction Activities for the Next Two Weeks

Columbia University is performing exterior repairs at the Studebaker Building. The first phase of the project is focusing on façade repairs to address deteriorating conditions of terra cotta and ensure safety, including terra cotta replacement, parapet reconstruction, and masonry repairs. After completion of the façade repairs, the building's roof will be replaced. This project is estimated to be complete in August 2024.

Construction Activities for the Weeks of May 15, 2023 and May 22, 2023

Although contractors carefully stage construction activities to minimize disruption, the nature of construction work is such that some disruptions will occur. The community should expect the following in the coming weeks:

What is Happening

- Joint pointing, lintel painting and brick replacement will continue at the north elevation. This work will create intermittent grinding noise and dust at the beginning and then it will be mostly quiet.
- The installation of new terra cotta units will continue at the west elevations and the elevator tower, weather permitting. Terra cotta units are anchored to the building with about 2-4 pins each. Drilling for pins will create some intermittent noise followed by mostly quiet work.
- Miscellaneous punchlist items on the south elevation parapet level will continue. This work will create some intermittent grinding noise followed by mostly quiet work.

What to Expect

- Regular work hours are 7:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.
- Windows should remain closed to prevent construction dust from entering the building. Draw shades for privacy during the workday.
- Ground level terra cotta removal and roof demolition is anticipated to start concurrently in mid-June. More information will be provided in the next update.

-Please note that all activities are subject to change based on field conditions –
